Dear Mr Hyde

I am writing to thank you for giving up your time to help me with my interview techniques. I found the session extremely useful in building up my life experiences and my skills in an interview situation.

I am now using the advice you gave me in every day situations, and I hope that this letter is easier to read!

I found the interview very enlightening; I felt that it was a good challenge that contributed to a vey good experience.

Thank you for your feedback, I am glad that I came across well as an interview candidate. I am glad that I appeared determined and talented, and I will continue to develop on my skills. Also I am pleased that I was able to get an insight of what is to come later on in life.

Thank you for your support

Yours truly,

Ben Fifoot

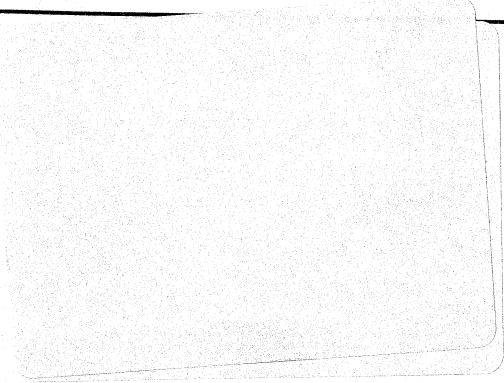

Dear Mr Hyde,

I am writing to you to thank you for coming into school and taking time to interview me. I learnt a lot from the mock interview as it taught me what kind of thing to expect when I enter the world of work which is not too long away. It was a great experience to see what kind of questions will be asked of me and how to behave in an interview. I was nervous before I came to the interview as I didn't really know what to expect however, soon after the interview began I realised that I didn't really need to worry. The feedback you gave me was very good so I am very happy and pleased with it, thank you. I will listen to your advice; stay focused and keep dancing (we are just working towards our dance show at the moment) and hopefully it will all come together like you said.

Thank you for your time.

Yours sincerely,
Sophie Green

Dear Mr. Hyde,

I am writing to thank you for taking the time and effort to come into school and interview me. I appreciate your generosity in giving me this chance, and I found the interview very beneficial and I hope that it helps me in later life by preparing me for real interviews.

Your review and comments have informed me of what I need to improve on, and I will endeavour to achieve these aims. I thank you for giving me the opportunity to improve my interview technique, and therefore perform better, maybe giving me an edge.

I have taken into account everything that you told me and will work on improving it to give myself the best possible chance in an actual job interview, so that I may get the job that I want.

, Before this, I had no experience with interviews, so this has prepared me better than any words ever could.

Thanks again,

Daniel Bennison.

Dear Mr Hyde,

I am writing this letter to show my appreciation for the time and effort you gave up to help me with my interviewing techniques during the mock interviews last week! I thoroughly enjoyed the process and found it extremely interesting and can guarantee that it will be greatly beneficial to any situations in the near and far future. I found myself nervous to start with but by the end I felt comfortable.

I have found myself more confident in my abilities and talents to become a doctor after speaking to you. I found the comments about my CV needing bullet points in the interests, skills and strengths section very useful and have amended my CV appropriately I have also took the advice about only taking subjects that I like at A level and possibly taking IT. This conformation about my abilities has given me more confidence and I will remember our conversation when I am at medical school!

Again,
Many thanks and Much Appreciation

Yours Sincerely

Lucy Wells

Dear Mr Hyde,

I am writing to you to thank you for coming into school and taking the time to give me a mock interview. From having a mock interview, it prepared me for some of the questions I might be asked and different things I need to consider when having my next interview. At first I was a little apprehensive about having an interview (especially as it was the beginning of the day and I was to set standards for everyone else that you interviewed that day), but I now feel much more confident if I were to have another interview soon. I think the interview has made me consider why I want to go into law, before the interview, I never realized how passionate I was about the idea. Thank you very much for the positive feedback you have given me, I will take your advice and continue to work hard. The whole experience was worth while and I appreciate your time and effort in interviewing me.
Thank you again for your time.

Yours sincerely

HESurgay.
